Grizzlies Seek 'Dads' Day' Title Saturday Against Conference-leading A&M Rams

Montana will attempt to play the spoiler tomorrow for returning Dads' day fans when the Grizzlies meet league-leading Colorado A&M at 1:30 p.m. on Dornblaser field. The Grizzlies are waiting to upset the Rams and win their third conference game of the year. Two years ago the Grizzlies upset the visiting Rams, 32 to 31.

Students who have not registered their fathers are urged to attend a no-host luncheon at 11:30 a.m. Saturday in the Silver Bow room of the Lodge.

At this first of the Dads' day activities, Traditions board will determine the oldest father and the father traveling the longest distance. The two winners will be presented awards during the halftime show.

Saturday's game is the final home appearance and the final conference game for the Silver-tips this season.

If the Rams win tomorrow, they will almost be assured of a tie for first place. Following Montana, they have two more league games with Utah and Brigham Young.

Montana Wins Two

Playing in the friendly confines of Dornblaser field, Montana has won two of three conference games, beating BYU 27-13, and New Mexico 19-14. Denver beat the Grizzlies 61-13 in the annual Homecoming game.

Colorado A&M, led by all-conference back Gary Glick, has won four Skyline games without a defeat this season. They defeated New Mexico 25-0, Denver 20-19, Wyoming 14-13, and Utah State 26-9.

Win Means Sixth

A Montana win tomorrow would give the Grizzlies at least sixth place in the conference, with a strong chance of finishing fifth with a three and three conference record.

Colorado A&M will be forced to stop one of the top passing attacks in the nation. Terry Hurley, Chicago end, is fourth in the nation in pass receiving, with 19 catches good for 285 yards and one touchdown.

In Glick, the Rams have one of the most versatile backs in the country. He can run from any one of the four backfield positions. Last year Glick finished first in the nation in pass interceptions.

fifth in total offense, and sixteenth in forward passing.

Strand Will Play

Carl Strand, Montana right guard, after missing last week's game, will be ready for action. The Silver-tips escaped any serious injuries with New Mexico last week and will be at full strength.

MSU's Treasure State band will present a glimpse of "Show Business" at halftime. Joko, the mysterious twirler, will be featured. The band will play "Here Comes the Showboat," "Waiting for the Robert E. Lee," "Hey, Mr. Banjo," "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," "Ta-Ra-Ra-Boom-De-Re," "I'll See You in My Dreams," and "Montana."

The band is directed by James Eversole, and commanded on the field by Don Hardisty, Butte, drum major, and Nancy Schilling, head majorette.

The probable starting lineups:

Montana		Colo. A&M
Rhinehart	LE	Sanders
Gehring	LT	Fisher
Dasinger	LG	Mirich
Dzivi	C	Weber
Strand	RG	Dekleva
McGihon	RT	Gilliland
Hurley	RE	Rhoten

King D. Frumpf, Queen Zoftic, To Reign Saturday

Miss Zoftic and Dowdy Frumpf, Kams and Dregs' homecoming queen and king, will be introduced at the Colorado A&M football game Saturday afternoon.

Patsy Anderson, Bozeman, and Dick Woods, Saco, will represent the reigning characters. The group will sit in a special section at the game and wear their standard outfits of jeans and white shirts. Ann Crocker, Missoula, is chairman of arrangements.

The organization will make their official debut by providing entertainment at the monster party Saturday night in the Lodge.

Plans have been made for the trip where the Kams and Dregs hope to sit in the middle of the Bozeman cheering section.

Jane Law, Harlowton, is president of Kams, women's portion of the group. President of Dregs, men's group, is John Skees, Great Falls. Darlene Forzley, Seattle, and Mary Shanahan, Miles City, are secretary and treasurer. Adviser is Tommie Lu Middleton, Lodge program director.

The group will gather for their meeting next Tuesday evening in front of the Northern Pacific depot.

Mu Phi Epsilon To Receive Visit From National VP

Rosalie V. Speciale, San Jose, Calif., national first vice-president of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority, will be at the University this week end to observe the work of the local chapter.

Miss Speciale will observe a formal initiation, pledging ceremonies, a model meeting, and be guest of honor at a dinner given at the home of Pam Brechbill, Missoula, chapter historian.

Those to be initiated are: June Patton, Missoula; Ellene Ishmael, Ronan; Echolyn Lee, Fairfield; Betty Rucker, Plentywood; Ruth Henry, Helena; Lucy Vaughan, Whitefish; and Jean Hollingsworth, Hamilton. Pat Shaffer, Billings, is the new pledge.

Lenington Takes Presidency, Beats Opponent By Eight Votes

Chuck Lenington, Ft. Benton, who entered the race for freshmen president late in last week's campaign after Vince Kelleher, Helena, withdrew, won by eight votes in yesterday's elections.

The vote was Lenington 176, his opponent, Don Moe, Great Falls, 168. A recount was made on this return.

Forty-two per cent of the freshmen class turned out to elect Bill Crawford, Missoula, a write-in candidate in the primary, to Central board with 189 votes to Larry Pettitt's 151. Pettitt is from Lewistown.

In the race for vice president, Sue Williams, Great Falls, beat Jim Breslin, Helena, 189 to 153. Heather McLeod, Helena, with 207 votes won the position of secretary from Barbara Wood, Billings, 137. Barbara Chapple, Billings, receiving 202 votes, beat out Jo Ann Teserek, Great Falls, with 137 for treasurer.

Of a total of 836 freshmen, 344 turned out to vote. This is compared to the 343 that turned out in last week's primary election.

Four Must Agree On German Unity

By UNITED PRESS

The West warned Russia that there can be no further progress toward ending the cold war unless the Big Four agree on German unity and European security. The warning came from the French foreign minister, Antoine Pinay. He told the opening session of the Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Geneva that nothing stands in the way of an immediate decision on a plan to link German unity to a security system.

Calling 'U'

Lutheran Student association Halloween party, Sunday, 6 p.m.

Deseret club, 3:30 p.m. Sunday. Peter Dyson will give the lesson, entitled "Churchianity."

Wesley Foundation will discuss interfaith marriages Sunday, 5:30 p.m., at First Methodist church.

Forestry club initiates who did not sign plaque on Sentinel meet at forestry school Saturday, 10 a.m.

Newman club members will meet at 7 p.m. Saturday on the west side of LA. Rides will take them to the Knights of Columbus hall for dancing and chili.

STAFF WILL PICK PIX IF STUDENTS DON'T

The Sentinel staff will pick proofs of students who don't appear within the next week to choose their own, according to Dick Hosking, Butte, editor.

Proofs were completed Monday. Each student has a choice of two. The picture will appear under each living group with which the student is affiliated during the year.

SENTINEL BINDERY DELAY POSTPONES DISTRIBUTION

Because of a delay in binding of Sentinels, the 1955 yearbook will not be distributed early next week as planned, says Kay Blaszek, business manager.

A bulletin will be posted in the Lodge when the books arrive, and distribution will begin immediately.

Twelve Workshops Planned For Union Conference Here

All interested students will be permitted to join the 94 delegates from 19 colleges, universities and junior colleges at workshops during the Association of College Unions Regional conference today and tomorrow in the Lodge. According to Pris Herget, Peoria, Ill., conference co-chairman, MSU students will not have to pay any registration fee for the conference. She urges students to take part in as many meetings and workshops as possible.

Today's Program

Today's program is as follows: 8:30-11 a.m., registration, Activities room, the Lodge.

9 a.m., conference steering committee meetings, Conf. room 1.

11 a.m.-1:30 p.m., discussion leaders' meeting, Conf. room 2.

11:45 a.m.-1:30 p.m., lunch, Yellowstone room, with welcome addresses by Gary Jystad, Kalispell, ASMSU president, and President McFarland, Beth Gildow, from Washington State college, Pullman, chairman of the executive committee and general conference chairman, will introduce Vern Kinsinger, from Whitman, Walla Walla, Wash., regional representative, during the lunch.

1:20-2:30 p.m., late registration.

1:30-2:30 p.m., continued discussion leaders' meeting led by Mrs. Tracy Johnson, Oregon State college.

1:30-2:30 p.m., summarizers' meeting, Conf. room 1.

1:30-2:15 p.m., general buzz session and get-acquainted period for non-committee members, Yellowstone room.

2:30-3:15 p.m., 1955 Regional board meeting, Conf. room 3.

A coffee break will be in the Grizzly Grill from 3:15-3:30 p.m.

Workshops Planned

Three workshops will be held from 3:30-5 p.m. They are: "Considering the increasing enrollment, how should the needs and goals of Union programs be determined?", "What are various methods for procuring personnel?", and "What is the student's responsibility in relation to conduct in the Union?" Summarizer for the last workshop will be Darlene Forzley, Seattle, MSU senior.

A movie, showing the new union at the University of Wisconsin will be presented in the music auditorium from 5:30-6 p.m. tonight.

Foresters Hunt Bertha Kidnapper

A mysterious phone call received at the Kaimin office at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday promises to initiate the annual MSU moose-hunt.

The unidentified spokes gave Kim Forman, Miles City, Kaimin editor, the following information: "Bertha was laid to rest Tuesday night at 11 p.m. She was stolen at 8:07 p.m. Tuesday." The informant said the foresters still did not know of her disappearance.

Forman, not wishing to be the one to break the sad story to the foresters, kept the information to himself for two days. Thursday he informed the unlightened foresters who began the annual search.

The telephone spokesman emphasized that the lawyers were not responsible for the theft. He also said the Kaimin would be notified of any future developments.

Steam Valve . . .

Oct. 27

To the Editor:

Thursday morning between eight and nine o'clock, two cars were parked so that they extended out on the paved roadway leading to the Journalism and Forestry buildings from the west. They were a light green Plymouth, license 4-5675, and a light green Frazer, license 4-3729, no license plate on the front.

I suggest that blocking roads with parked cars is not a commendable solution to the parking problem. Another paved access road to these same buildings, from the east, is seldom usable at all, because 10 or 12 cars are usually neatly lined up across it.

Hatch Some Ideas For Us

MSU is in a unique position for playing host to the convention of Region 11, Association of College Unions. Our new student union, the Lodge, with its uncertain program, is like an egg shell waiting for a yolk and white.

This campus is very happy to greet the ACU delegates—both for all we can do for them and for all they can do for us. There seem to be three big benefits on this side of the ledger.

First is the publicity MSU will gain at schools throughout the Northwest, Canada, and Hawaii.

Second is the exchange of ideas covering union programs at all of these schools—to which MSU should be highly receptive.

It May Be Contagious . . .

Third is the spirit of participation and cooperation that has developed in fraternities, sororities, and the seven convention committees. May it be contagious.

Two of the Region 11 officers, Beth Gildow, Washington State college, and Vern E. Kinsinger, Whitman, refer to their unions as "the Living Room of the University."

We like that term. It expresses just what a student union should be, a place for casual social intercourse for all students. If a union is to serve this end for an entire university population it must offer a program as wide as Hell canyon.

...To Apply to the Lodge

Our Lodge activities committee is now trying to formulate such a program. The building is there, administrative policy is new and flexible, and here on campus are delegates with first hand information on successful union programs.

Welcome to MSU delegates. We will demand a heap of yolk and white. We hope we can pay you back with hospitality.

Jumbolaya, PSK, Sigma Chi Win Intramural Games

Highlights of Clover Bowl action yesterday were Sigma Chi trouncing the Butte Rats, 33-0, Jumbolaya pushing over the Fort Falcons, 26-0, and PSK squeaking by TX, 8-6.

It was all Sigma Chi, as the gold and blue completed pass after pass to humble the Butte Rats. Olson threw five touchdown passes to Matthews, and Tidyman. The furious line play of the SXs kept the Rats quarterback from completing anything.

League-leading Jumbolaya looks as if it may win its second I-M championship in a row, if it continues to play ball as it did last night. The Falcons couldn't do anything right, as the fast Jumbolaya team dominated the game. Hendricks had a good afternoon, connecting passes to Winterholler, Burton, and Bork. The Falcons couldn't go over the strong Jumbolaya defense and the final score read 26-0.

Finally getting into the win column, PSK won a breather from TX in the last five seconds. Blanchard, PSK back, plunged over from the three-yard line to give PSK the victory. Theta Chi took the lead in the third quarter as Schoenman passed to West for six points. TX was unable to score the extra point. A safety gave PSK two points in the third quarter and it looked like a sure victory. Then the PSKs pushed over a touchdown and the final score was 8-6.

Intricate Formations Make Game Of Football Difficult to Follow

BY GENELL JACKSON

"What happened? Who had the ball? I never saw that play..."

How many times have you sat through a football game plagued by these questions? It's no secret that football is one of the most complicated and scientific sports popular on American campuses, but it is surprising how many fans sit through games without the slightest idea of what's happening.

Perhaps one of the most puzzling things to most people are the formations used by the ball carrying teams. The most popular offenses used by college teams are the tight-T, split-T, single-wing, and wing-T.

Offers Deception

The balanced T affords quick, deceptive drives in any direction with concealed and delayed pass plays. The key player is a sharp quarterback, as he handles the ball on nearly every play.

Montana uses variations of the T, and the importance of the quarterback in most of the Grizzly plays is evident. MSU has employed a passing attack this season, with hopes that it would improve their running game. When MSU plays against a team using a zone pass defense, watch for a combination of pass patterns. They often pass off fake runs and run when the defense is expecting a pass.

Samples of this may be found in the popular "statue of liberty" play—which resulted in a Grizzly touchdown against New Mexico last week. The quarterback fades as if to pass, but instead hands off to a back who runs wide around either end.

When Montana plays a team using a man-to-man pass defense, they will usually attempt to have the receivers out-manuever the single defender.

Careful observers will note that a current trend with the T-formation is to station one or more ends or backs wide in flanking position, thus putting the potential pass-receiver out in the open and spreading the defense.

T "Option" Is Key Play

Split T—As its name would suggest, the interior linemen are split, rather than stationed shoulder to shoulder. This is done to spread the defense, widen the lateral range, and provide better blocking angles. However, the most important difference is in the sliding action of the quarterback. Where the tight T quarterback makes his spinning fakes in place, the split T quarterback ranges laterally behind his line after the snap.

A key split T play to watch for is the quarterback "option". The quarterback holds the ball until the defensive end commits himself; if the end waits on the line or floats wide, the quarterback will hold the ball and run. If the end crashes to meet him, the quarterback will pitch wide to a trailing halfback.

Stresses Power Plays

Single Wing—This formation features power and passing. With the lines unbalanced and the backs in a wedge array, it is set up to get two-on-one blocking and provides an additional pass receiver in the wingback.

Queen Contests Outlined This Week

Plans have been made this week for two queen coronations. The first will be the Craig hall "Queen of Halloween," who will be chosen Friday night at the Craig hall "Jack O'Lantern Jump." The dance will be held at the Bitterroot room of the Florence hotel.

Candidates for "Halloween Queen" were chosen from the three women's dorms. Candidates are: Corbin hall, Cleo Bardelli, Osborn, Ida., and Ardyce Sayre, Great Falls; North hall, Sue Williams, Great Falls, and JoAnn Jensen, Billings; New hall, Nancy Cooper, Ekalaka, and Coleta Carden, Great Falls.

Sigma Phi Epsilon has begun plans for the annual "Queen of Hearts Ball" which will be held Saturday, Nov. 19 at the Palace hotel.

Candidates for "Queen of Hearts" have been nominated by all women's living groups. They are: North hall, Audrey Wacker, Billings; Corbin hall, Yvonne Kins, Libby; New hall, JoAnn Jacobson, Butte; Synadelphic, Shirley Lenhart, Havre; Delta Gamma, Laura Mackenzie, Corvallis, Ore.; Delta Delta Delta, Liz Warner, Seattle; Sigma Kappa, Roberta Lazzari, Butte; Alpha Phi, Jeri Miller, Cut Bank; Kappa Alpha Theta, Ruth Ann Christensen, Reserve; and Kappa Kappa Gamma, Janet Woodcock, Great Falls.

A fireside will be held at the Sig Ep house Saturday night honoring the queen candidates.

Other functions this week end are the Phi Sig "Roaring Twenties Party," the Tri Delt Halloween party, a fireside at the ATO house on Friday night; and the SAE "Harem Party," Sigma Chi fireside, and the Theta Chi "Hobo Arts Ball" Saturday night.

Serenades

Janet Fowler, DG, Lewistown, received a Sigma Chi serenade Monday. She is pinned to Chuck Mattison, Lewistown.

New Pledges

Six fraternities pledged a total of 15 men this week. New pledges are: ATO: Dick Burlingame, Polson; Bob Athearn, Winslow Junction, N.J.; and Kard Pierce, Glendale, Wis. SPE: Les Smith, Don Sward, and Bill Scholl, Missoula; and Jerry Hinman, Anaconda. TX: Bob Leonard, Lethbridge, B.C.; and Paul Joslin, Hamilton. SN: Lee Boffo, Great Falls, and Bob McMahan, Drummond. PSK: Chuck Glennie, Harlowton, and Mike Hurley, Baker. SX: Bob Smith, Billings, and Dave Norton, Anaconda.

Because of limited space, the rest of this week's society news will appear in the Kaimin Tuesday.
